

Supplementary Fig. S1 Mothers lower limb magnetic resonance imaging: (A) Short inversion time inversion recovery and (B) T1 axial images at the thigh level show that the muscles have normal signal intensity. No obvious focal lesions, fatty replacement, or edema is seen. Bilaterally symmetric appearance is noted