ERRATUM

Stefan Gutwinski, Stefanie Schreiter, Josef Priller et al. Drink and Think: Impact of Alcohol on Cognitive Functions and Dementia – Evidence of Dose-Related Effects
Pharmacopsychiatry 2017

In the contribution mentioned above a sentence is not correct (page 4, right column, last paragraph). Correct is:
Second, individuals with moderate or heavy consumption often differ in various aspects from non-drinkers [62]: age, sex (more men with heavy consumption), ethnicity, education (lower education among heavy consumption), social parameters (higher income in moderate consumption) physical fitness, and occurrence of somatic illnesses, such as hypertension, diabetes, cardiac disease, or head injuries; and also, the occurrence of psychiatric disorders, including depression and anxiety, may be elevated in people with heavy consumption [6, 88, 108, 130–142].

Despite this, reference no. 135 has been deleted. The following references (previously 136–143) have been renumbered: 135–142.