

Memoir

Dr G.S. Bhattacharyya – A Life of Full Dimensions (1958–2021)

Sujith Kumar Mullanpally¹

¹Apollo Proton Cancer Centre (APCC), Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India

South Asian J Cancer 2021;00:137–137.

Address for correspondence Sujith Kumar Mullanpally, MD DNB, DM, ECMO, Apollo Proton Cancer Centre (APCC), Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India (e-mail: drsujithm@gmail.com).

Dr G.S. Bhattacharyya (1958–2021)

All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players: they have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts, his acts being seven ages.

—William Shakespeare

Two years back, I got an unexpected call as I was going through a personal dilemma. Caller introduced himself as “Dr GS.” His voice was very warm and affectionate (though we had never met before!). He spoke to me with a very different perspective that I had never thought of before and the dilemma got solved. Many oncologists have similar memories where Dr GS sir supported them impressively with elegant yet down to earth attitude!

Dr G.S. Bhattacharyya, fondly known as “GS” was an orator, oncologist, poet, pioneer, philosopher, researcher, visionary, and more. He loved being mentor for young oncologists in their career path. His interests and knowledge was boundless. He exuded confidence and spoke on myriad of topics with clarity, often with a touch of humor. In these pandemic times, he constantly updated us both about COVID and latest cutting edge research in Oncology.

He was a torch bearer of Indian medical oncology in the international arena. He was in leadership of many global organizations like ESMO, SIGO. Conferred with fellowships in Academy of European Society for Translational Medicine (EUSTM), American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics (F-ASPET) and more, he was member of the Steering Committee of WHO for Oncology. He published more than 200 peer reviewed papers and was an avid reviewer.

Dr GS was a founder member of Indian Cooperative Oncology Network (ICON), Molecular Oncology Society, and Indian Association of Cancer Research., He served as President, ISMPO and had keen interest in LMIC oncology. He excelled in philosophy and poetry, a glimpse is below:

The Virtual World

Some say we live in a virtual world,
A matrix, Our existence, digital,
What does that mean? We're not real? We're not alive?
I think therefore I'm not? How real is real?
If virtual here, potentially virtual anywhere?
If virtual,virtual forever?
Life after death? Digital rebirth elsewhere?
Free will a digital trick? A mirage? Programed?
It's all programed, Everything is fixed?
Searching!
Searching for the meaning of existence!

- Possibly no meaning at all!!
- Dr G.S. Bhattacharyya (personal collections)

His wife, Mrs Shilpi and medical oncology community of India remain immersed in memoirs of his Life of full dimensions! As I brace myself to follow the footsteps of the past editors of SAJC with an incredible legacy, Dr GS prompts me, inspires me to take a different route, a multidimensional one!

Conflict of Interest

None declared.

DOI <https://doi.org/10.1055/s-0041-1740438> ISSN 2278-330X

How to cite this article: Kumar S,Mullanpally, Dr G.S. Bhattacharyya – A Life of Full Dimensions (1958–2021), South Asian J Cancer 2021;10(3):137–137

© 2021. MedIntel Services Pvt Ltd.

This is an open access article published by Thieme under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-NonDerivative-NonCommercial-License, permitting copying and reproduction so long as the original work is given appropriate credit. Contents may not be used for commercial purposes, or adapted, remixed, transformed or built upon. (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/>).

Thieme Medical and Scientific Publishers Private Ltd A-12, Second Floor, Sector -2, NOIDA -201301, India