

Thank You and Welcome to the New Editors of JNLS Reports

Dennis Kraus, Michael J. Link

J Neurol Surg Rep 2023;84:e65.

It is with true mixed emotion that we announce the departure of our current editors for the Journal of Neurological Surgery Reports (JNLS-R) and the video reports: Derrick Lin, Rupert Oberholzer, and James Liu. All three members of our team labored to provide editorial oversight for the journal and left a significant impact on the evolution of the journal, and the quality of the Journal of Neurological Surgery Part B (JNLS-B) would not be what it is today without their considerable effort. We would like to offer a hardy thank you and wish them all the best in their future endeavors.

It is with great excitement that we introduce our new editors for the combined JNLS-R/video reports, Dr. Marilene Wang and Dr. Christopher Graffeo. Dr. Wang is the coleader of the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) skull base team, where she is the Professor at the Department of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery at the UCLA Geffen School of Medicine. Dr. Graffeo is an Assistant Professor of Neurosurgery at The University of Oklahoma where his practice focuses on skull base and cerebrovascular diseases.

The future of our journal remains very bright. Please welcome Dr. Wang and Dr. Graffeo to our editorial board!
